3. The parties shall be limited to 25 interrogatories and 5 depositions per side.

4. While the Court has acceded to the parties' requests to file both a motion to vacate and motions for summary judgment given the overlapping nature of merits issues presented by both types of motions, the Court may well defer judgment on summary judgment for the reasons discussed at the September 15 scheduling conference. In that event, the parties may request additional merits and expert discovery.

5. The parties are strongly encouraged to work together to complete discovery without need of intervention by the Court. No discovery motions may be filed without leave of the Court. In the event that a discovery dispute arises, the parties shall make a good faith effort to resolve or narrow the areas of disagreement. If the parties are unable to resolve the discovery dispute, the parties shall jointly call chambers at (202) 354-3480 to arrange for a conference with the Court. The Court will either rule on the issue at the conclusion of the conference or determine the manner in which it will be handled. At least twenty-four (24) hours before the telephone conference, the parties may be required to file with the Court a brief Joint Notice of Discovery Dispute summarizing the parties' respective positions.

6. Parties may not extend deadlines by stipulation. Parties must seek reasonable extensions by motion.

7. The parties are directed to Local Civil Rule 7(h) regarding the requirements for motions for summary judgment and oppositions. Parties shall provide bound, tabbed courtesy copies of any document constituting, supporting, or opposing a dispositive motion if said document, together with its exhibits, attachments, declarations, and affidavits, is over one hundred (100) pages.

SO ORDERED.
